We invite all currently enrolled school counseling graduate students to apply. Four scholarships are available at each conference. The scholarship will provide for the conference registration fee and meals. There is a commitment of service that we ask of you at the conference, at the same time, you will be able to attend workshops. A current professor of yours must also verify via e-mail (at the address below) that you are enrolled as a current student in their class.

Deadline is March 1 via e-mail to:
Frenda Rodgers, ISCA Annual Conference Scholarship Chairperson
frodgers24@hotmail.com

Include your name, university attending, and a 250 word essay discussing – As a school counseling graduate student, what does it mean to you to have a developmental program at your future employment site?

Notification of recipients of the scholarship will be made during the first week of March.
Your application must be submitted electronically.
